Britain Willing to Participate In Sealing Conference.

BUT OBJECTS TO RUSSIA AND JAPAN.

Sir Julian Pauncefote, the Embassador, Will Be Back In Washington Soon, When Steps May Be Taken to Negotiate Reciprocity Treaties.

LONDON, Sept. 28 .- An announcement was made confirming dispatches of Saturday last that the Marquis of Salisbury has not withdrawn from the Bering sea conference, but has simply objected to the presence of Russia and Japan. Negotiations on the subject are proceeding. Great Britain is willing to take part in the conference and is endeavoring to secure the acquiescence of Canada.

The United States embassador, Colonel John Hay, and the British embassa- [rel of caustic potash weighing 375 dor to the United States, Sir Julian Pauncefote, visited the foreign office.

The whole hitch seems to be due to the fallure of the Marquis of Salisbury to respond to Colone! Hay's note of July 29 acknowledging the Marquis of Salisbury's agreement to "a meeting of experts" and in which Colonel Hay stated the president expected Russian and Japanese representatives would be present at the conference. No exception being taken to this, Colonel Hay concluded the matter was settled until Wednesday last, when an objection was received from the British side, it being pointed out that the Marquis of Salisbury never contemplated taking part in a conference at which Russia and Japan were represented, having always contended, as shown in his dispatch of 1895, that they have no locus standi.

It is also pointed out that the Marquis of Salisbury's letter of July 29 distinctly says Great Britain had agreed to a meeting of British, Canadian and American experts.

The Japanese minister here says: While no formal communications have passed between Japan and England I have discussed the arrangements for a conference with the foreign office

It is a curious fact that Colonel Hay's dispatch of July 29 is omitted from the Bering sea blue book just is-

The Times says this morning:

The insistence of the American government upon either an international conference or the admission of representatives of Russia and Japan at the meeting of experts can only tend to delay an agreement on the basis of ascertained facts and to render it improbable that the new regulations will be ready to be enforced in the summer

"It is obvious that a treaty between the United States, Russia and Japan without England could not in the smallest degree affect the binding character of the Paris award. A revision of the award should be determined by the common agreement of the governments of the United States and Great Britain. No other powers have any right to a controlling voice therein. It may be added that as the American claim was founded originally on the contention that the United States is the successor in title to all the rights of Russia in the Bering sea it seems a strange proceeding to contend that Russian interests in that quarter justify a demand for the separate representation of power not implicated in

"When Creat Britain has settled with the United States whether the regulations are to be revised and in what way, there will be nothing to prevent the governments from negotiating their extension to the western coasts of the Pacific ocean, where the scaling grounds are, under the authority of Russia and Japan."

Will Be Back In Time.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British embassador, is expected to return here from his London trip about Oct. 15, notwithstanding reports that he would not be back in time for the Bering sea conference. The staff of the British embassy, now at Manchester-by-the-Sea. will return next week, and, according to present plans, the entire British representation will be here when the seal conference is held.

With the return of Sir Julian it is believed that steps will be taken by the British authorities to negotiate reciprocity treaties under the new tariff law between the United States and British American colonies. Word reaches here that Sir Augustus Hemming, governor general of British Guiana, has urged the authorities at London to effect reciprocity arrangements with the United States, and in support of this the legislature of the colony adopted the following resolu-

"That his excellency, the governor general, be respectfully requested to cause inquiries to be made in connection with the reciprocity clause in the new tariff bill of the United States as to the expediency of entering into any arrangements which will assure the administration of the sugar product of the colony on the most favorable

It was urged in support of this resolution that the sugar industry of the colony was dependent on the United States market, which takes 71 per cent of the entire product. Sir Cavendish Boyle, the colonial secretary, said this view had been presented to the colonial minister, Joseph Chamberlain, and that it was expected the British representative at Washington would be asked to look after the interests of British colanies in this particular. A reciprocity ireaty would permit a reduction of duty en the sugar of Guiana of about 33

sents on 100 pounds. Under the British colonial system all be made by the imperial government. It is believed that if reciprocity negoti-ations are begun in behalf of British Guiana and other southern colonles it will lead to some negotiations for Canada, where the Liberal ministry is favorable to reciprocity.

LUETGERT'S PARTNER SPEAKS.

Explains the Purchase of the Caustic Potash Found In the Vat.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28,-The leading event of yesterday in the trial of Luetgert was the evidence of William Charles, Luetgert's business partner. He explained why the caustic potash, in which the body of Mrs. Luetgert is alleged by the prosecution to have been dissolved, was bought. According to Charles' story, the potash was purchasas the principal ingredient of a quantity of soft soap to be used in cleaning up the big factory preparatory to its sale-to an English syndicate. The witness said he suggested this method of putting the factory in shape himself and that Luetgert, acting upon the suggestion, ordered a barpounds sent to the factory in March last. This was about the time the prosecution claims the negotiations were pending between Luetgert and Davey, the mysterious Englishman who is said to have represented the syndicate and who borrowed something like $25,000 from Luetgert.

Charles said, besides the caustic potash, two or three barrels of tallow, a quantity of grease and some chipped bone, which were to be used in making the soft soap, were delivered at the factory.

He said that he aided Odorofsky and the two laborers employed in the factory to place some of the stuff in the middle vat. He also saw Frank Bialk in the factory at the time. The caustic potash was put in the vat, and Luetgert said he would see to turning on the steam and boiling the stuff. Charles said he met Luetgert in a saloon opposite the factory on the evening of the night Mrs. Luetgert disappeared, and Luetgert said he was going over to the factory and turn on the steam. At 9 o'clock the same night Charles said he went to the basement of the factory and found Luetgert there and the steam turned on. The mixture boiled over once or twice and splashed upon the floor, he said. The following day he visited the factory basement and saw the mixture in the vat. The tallow was in one portion of the vat, and the grease or lard had collected in another part of the var by itself. Luetgert again turned the steam on the mixture, he said. On cross examination by State Attorney Deneen, Charles denied he had "doctored" the books of the concern so as to show a yearly profit of $30,000. This line of cross examination was objected to by the defense, but the court permitted it for a time, the result being a complete denial by Charles. He acknowledged it was he who introduced Promoter Davey to Luetgert, but he said he was deceived by the man as well as Luetgert.

SET FIRE TO SING SING.

Attempt to Burn the State Prison Offices and Storehouse.

SING SING, Sept. 28 .- A deliberate attempt was made to set fire to storehouse and offices of the state prison. Prompt work, however, on the part of the guards and the fire department of the prison saved the buildings, with comparatively slight loss.

The fire was started in the big room in which was stored a large quantity of chith and finished clothing, by pouring oil over the goods and then applying

Tile smoke was seen by one of the convicts as he was marching to dinner, and the attention of the guards was quickly called to the flames. An alarm was quickly given, and in a few minutes the fire was out, after doing damage to the extent of $300 or $400. The buildings and property endangered is Control at about $105,000.

For a short time there was considerable excitement among the convicts nearly all of whom were in the messroom getting their dinner. This was dlayed, however, by the guards. A thorough investigation is going on, and already one convict has been placed in rolltary continement, and it is thought by the authorities that they have the right man.

What Mr. Bryan Has to Say In It to New York Democrats.

CIVIC RULE MUST BE PARTISAN.

Terms Government by the Cits a Vicious Heresy Assailing Political Progress, and Says That a Victory For Them Would Be a Great Calamity.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The full text of the letter which Mr. Bryan is said to have written on the coming mayoralty contest in this city is as follows:

A triumph of the Democracy of Greater New York except under the auspices of the issue that animates the party will have the same moral effect as a renewed and affirmed triumph of the agencies led by Senator Hanna,

When parties cease to represent certain fixed principles, the supreme prerogative of the ballot becomes prostituted to a contest between organizations for the spoils of office and the enjoyment of success. To this prostitution of the ballot may be ascribed every chapter of shame and corruption in the history of American municipal government. It is better to have a government by the Pepublican party, responsible in its declarations, than government by Democratic partisans without responsibility to Democratic principles.

Many persons confound opposition with principle. A mere partisan Democratic opposition to the candidates of the Republican party cannot be dignifled with the time honored banner of Jefferson and Tilden. One of the most fascinating fallacies of the day is the claim that opposition to the administration of office by partisans is a principle. So called nonpartisan government is not a principle and, should it be accepted and eliminate political parties from municipal affairs, invites reasonless contests. Government might as well be decided by the futures of rival colors in the football field.

The Democratic party is the enemy of this fallacy. I do not, therefore, subscribe in any way to the theory that good city government is to be found in government without party. If the dream of nonpartisan government becomes a reality, then would arise a condition of contests for power between citizens unions and peoples' unions, each claiming to be the only original purveyors of purity in government. The proposition to govern Greater New York through an organization known as the Citizens' union is one of the most vicious heresies that assail our political progress and the more dangerous because of its alluring sponsorship. Government by the Democratic party or the Republican party without adherence to issues and government by the Citizens' union instead of government by the people becomes government by an organization. I would consider it a calamity if New York begins its greater career without the auspices of political principle and responsibility. The Democratic party is the party of home rule, but home rule does not mean irresponsibility to the nation at large. The great cities are part of the state and country, they are the granaries, treasuries, clearing houses and capitals of culture and science, they are created, not of themselves, but of the whole people's toil and progress. Therefore it is unnatural and artificial to avoid responsibility to national issues and political cowardice and political crime.

Greater New York will be the uncrowned capital of America. The Democrats of New York have a responsibility, not only to themselves and the greater city, but to their party and its living principle and the nation. This election is the most important and influential political event between 1895 and 1900. To suggest that the Denioeratic party platform has no place in this contest is to admit a doubt of its wisdom and places the Democratic party on a par with the fallacy of nonpolitical government. The issue is the life of the party, not the garment, and to alter or deduct from the declarations of the assembled party is mortal injury. Nor have battalions which fought now on one side, now on another, now shoulder to shoulder as friends, now bayonet to bayonet as enemies, a place in honorable war.

Stopping Their Perquisites.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 .- The postmaster general has issued an order forbidding clerks and other employees to solicit contributions of money, gifts or presents; to issue addresses, complimentary cards, prints, publications or any substitute intended to induce the public to make them gifts or presents; to sell tickets for theaters, concerts, balls, fairs, pienies, excursions or places of amusement or entertainment of any kind, or to borrow money or contract debts which they have no reasonable prospect of being able to pay. The order is the result of complaints made generally by postmasters from various cities. It applies to all postoffices and to the department officials.

TOLEDO, Sept. 28.—Since last June Harry Tolerton, a young son of E. W. Tolerton, a wealthy attorney who lives in this city, has been traveling in southern Europe with Professor D. J. Holmes of Alleghany college, Meadville, Pa. They expected soon to go to Berlin to enter the university there. Each week they sent a regular account of their travels.

On Sept. 8 they wrote to acknowledge a remittance and saying they had plenty of funds to take them through to Berlin. Nothing more was heard until Sept. 22, when Mr. Tolerton was surprised to receive a peremptory cable message directing him to send $1,000 by cable to Cologne at once. The message was dated Lucerne, Switzerland and purported to bear Professor Holmes' ignature. A reply was sent, and at the same time the United States consul was asked to investigate. A rambling reply, signed "Holmes," convinced Mr. Tolerton that some one else was doing the cabling. On Sept. 23 another demand came for $1,000, and still another on the Hundreds of dollars have been spent in cablegrams, but no trace of the men has been secured. A female relative of the Tolertons, who lives at Leipsic, was informed by cable of the particulars and started at once for Lucerne, and now all trace has been lost of her.

It is believed that all three have fallen In with sharpers or bandits, who are holding them for a reward.

Assistant Secretary of State Day telegraphed from Washington that he had asked the authorities in that section of the country to investigate thoroughly.

HENRY GEORGE FOR MAYOR.

If Tammany Does Not Nominate Judge Gaynor, He Will Run.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 .- At the Lenox lyceum last night a new party, to be known as the United Democracy, was formed by delegates of many factions and branches of Democratic organizations. Henry George of Kings was nominated for mayor of Greater New York, John G. Boyd of Manhattan for comptroller, Winfield S. Overton of Queens for president of the council and Charles F. Adams of New York for chief justice of the court of appeals.

It was not known positively whether Mr. George will accept the nomination, but the convention was assured that if Tammany does not nominate Judge Gaynor for mayor the noted author and worker would do battle for the new movement.

In their platform the United Democracy indorse the principles of the Chicago platform and demands municipal ownership and operation of street railroads, gas and electric lighting, Speakers at the convention took occasion to denounce Judge Parker and question his loyalty to Bryan and the free silver movement.

After being wounded McEnery succeeded in drawing his pistol and shot Turner dead. Ferren was captured, but managed to escape and is still at large, with a posse in pursuit.

Sympathy For Employees.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.-Mayor Harrison says, in speaking of the threatened strike of the employees of the City Railway company: "If it is true that these men were discharged because they were active in organizing a union for their protection, I believe that public sentiment should support the street car men in the event of a strike being declared. There is a great deal of talk of the railroads combining in their own interests, and I see no reason why the men should not have the same right to organize."

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The contest over the $30,000,000 estate left by Joseph Richardson, who died on June 9 at his unique residence known as the "spite house" at the northwest corner of Eighty-seventh street and Lexington avenue, came up in the surrogate's court and after being technically begun was adjourned until Nov. 3. C. H. Williams, a lawyer of 31 Nassau street, announced in court that he represented a beneficiary under a will of James Richardson executed prior to either of the two wills now being contested. Neither side expected this and showed much surprise. Mr. Williams said the will was executed some time in 1886, and besides the three persons mentioned in the last two wills several of the half-brothers and of James Richardson were named as beneficiaries, and that should the two last wills be declared invalid this will of 1886 would be of force and Surrogate Fitzgerald gave him permission to make such motion as he might deem proper upon notice to other rounsel. The case was then adjourned.

HAZLETON STRIKE IMBITTERED THEM

The Combatants Were Two Rival Factions of Foreigners, Who Did Notable Execution on Each Other With Revolvers, Axes and Knives.

GIRARDVILLE, Pa., Sept. 28.—It is reported that at least nine men were fatally injured and perhaps two score others more or less seriously wounded in a bloody riot here. The battle resulted from a quarrel over the Hazleton troubles. Thirty-six men are known to have been wounded, and about B are being secreted by their friends, who fear that they will be jailed. Twelve of the ringleaders were brought before Justice Elias Kissinger and ten before Justice H. B. Johnson. All were charged with assault with intent to kill, housebreaking and rioting. They were held in heavy bail for court. A number of other warrants have been issued, but have not been served as yet.

Dr. Charles Schlesman attended to 2 of the wounded, nine of whom he says are sure to die. Drs. William Monogham and Joseph Donaghue looked after 14 others, and how many the other physicians cared for is not known. Three other men are reported dead, but this cannot be verified as yet. The trouble occurred as follows: Several hundred Polanders board at William Culacabbage's hotel on Second street. Joseph Cavendish is the proprietor of a hotel at the east end of town, which several hundred more Polanders frequent. Bad blood has always existed between these factions. and the recent strike troubles at Hazleton imbittered them still more.

Culacabbage, it is said, with a large force of followers, marched to Cavendish's hotel, where several hundred of their enemies were celebrating pay day. The Cavendish men ascertained that their foes were coming and, arming themselves hurriedly, awaited their arrival. After a demonstrative march the Culacabbage contingent arrived and immediately stormed the saloon. Then came a bloody battle. The men fought fiercely. The shooting was fast and furious. Axes, knives, clubs and ether weapons were used with deadly effect. "The battle lasted for an hour, when the Culacabbage gang was beaten back leaving their wounded behind.

Everything in the house was smashed, and wounded men lay on the floors. The walls were besprinkled with blood and shreds of human flesh.

After the routed rioters had returned to their headquarters the Cavendisk men, arming themselves to the teeth, marched to their enemies' rendezvous, where a battle even flercer than the first was begun. The police force and constables were called, but were unable to contest matters with the rioters, who continued hostilities for some time

JOHN DUNCAN'S SONS, AGENTS, NEW YORK

A CATASTROPHE AVERTED. The Clerk Was Just About to Call a

Policeman. They were two daintily dressed, chic girls, and they were evidently out for a giddy afternoon, says the New York Telegram. They strolled down Broadway into Herald square with the gay-To Fit All of Them, from the est of smiles on their faces and the sauciest of looks in their dancing eyes. They stopped at a drug store in which a mammoth frosty soda fountain stands in all its glittering temptation, and soon became engrossed in two delicious, creamy, frothy mixtures.

They chatted as they drank and slowly are the ice cream with the long-distance spoons with which each alluring glass is provided.

At last the ice cream soda was finished, and the girls went laughing ont into the street, when suddenly a took of consternation overspread the face of one of them, and she exclumed: of the fact of the

Then she rushed back into the drug store and, laying hold of the edge of the econiter organ to pull it.

The other followed in amazement. The soda water manipulator and the drug clerks regarded the tugging young woman with astonishment, then fear. Still she pulled at the counter till it appeared to be in imminent danger of coming loose.

At length, when the proprietor was thinking seriously of calling in a policeman, something gave way and the young woman fell back with an exclamation of relief and popped something into her mouth.

"Nell, whatever is the matter with you?" asked her companion.

"Nothing," answered the other, in-nocently. "I nearly forgot my chewing KINSMEN IN THE SENATE. White, of California, and Mallory, of Florida, First Cousins.

If one man of a family gets to be senator he ought to be accounted fortunate. When two men of a family find seats in the senate together it is a remarkable event, and deserves recording, says the Washington Post.

Stephen Mullory White is a senator from California and StepHen Russell Mallory is a senator from Florida. There is more than a mere coincidence in the similarity of the names. The men are cousins. Senator Mallory's father and Senator White's mother were brother and sister. It is a little curious that the two senators should represent states as far apart as it is possible for them to be one on the Atlantic and the other on the Pacific coast.

The grandiather of the two senators vas one of the earliest settlers of Florida, while their grandmother was a Spanish woman of fine stock, considerable beauty and remarkable constitution, retaining to her old age all of her faculties. Much of Senator White's sturdiness comes from his grandmother. He was not born in Florida. for his father and mother crossed the plains in 1850, attracted to California by the reports of newly-discovered gold. The senator was born in San Francisco in 1853. The Mallorys, on the other hand, remained in Florida, and now the whirligig of time and the strange happenings of politics reunite the families

Eloped Fifty Years Ago, But Willed Property to Her Offspring

During the gold excitement of '49 a young Irishman named Thomas Hogan settled in Calaveras county, Cal., with his wife. He became a miner and amassed considerable property before he died. His widow afterward married John C. Scribner, of San Andreas. He died a few years ago, says the New York World, and left his property to his widow. The twice-widowed woman thus came into the possession of about $30,000. She died a few months ago and left the bulk of her property to her "nieces and nephews" in Ireland, naming two men and two women.

The lawyer appointed to administer on the estate wrote to the addresses given, and learned that two of the four were dead, and the remaining two had no knowledge of an aunt in California or any other place. An investigation developed the fact that the supposed Mrs. Hogan was really Mrs. Richard Barnes, and that she had left her husband and four children to elope with the young Irishman. She had kept the skeleton in her closet hidden for nearly 50 years, and even in death she tried to protect the secret by referring to her children as her nieces and nephews.

Physical Power of Niagara.

It has been calculated that a very strong man exerting himself very violently can for a few minutes work at a rate of one-fifth horse power, but the average combined output of 50 strong Big Lot of Comfortables laboring men working for ten hours a day would not probably exceed one horse power. With this in view, it is no exaggeration to say that the power of Niagara exceeds the physical power which the whole human race is capable of exerting continuously.

ORIGIN OF "COCKTAIL"

The Way the American Drink Came Into Existence.

The origin of the American "cocktail" is admittedly obscure, and many attempts have been made to trace it, says the American Epicure. An ingenious but unconvincing explanation that has lately been going the round of the press gives it medical significance. The pld doctors, they say, had a practice of treating certain diseases of the throat with a pleasant liquor applied with the tip end of a long feather plucked from a cock's tail. They finally began to use this preparation as a gargle, and the name cocktail clung to it. The gargle gave way to an appetizer-to a mixture of bitters, vermuth and liquor that is still in occasional demand.

For my own part I prefer infinitely the story of the Mexican beauty. According to this legend, the original cocktail was made from pulque, an alcoholic beverage distilled from the juice of the magney, or agave. The liquor, so 'tis said, was discovered by a Toltee noble. who sent some of it to the king by the hand of his daughter. The monarch drank the pulque and looked at the maiden. Whether the lady's looks gave pleasanter flavor to the liquor, or whether the taste of the liquor made the lady seem to be fairer, is not certain; the king, at any rate, fell in love with both, started a pulque plantation and married the girl, whose name, Nochitl, thus became associated with the national intoxicant. The rest is easy. When Gen. Scott's troops came to Mexico they drank the liquor, liked it, and, with the easy adaptability of the Saxon, simplified its Aztec name into "cocktail," which they carried back with them to the states.

City of Dig Windmills.

Amsterdam, the capital of the Netherlands, is situated at the confluence of the River Amstel and the arm of the Zuyder Zee, called the Y (pronounced eye). It is a forest of lofty windmills in the form of towers, steeples, pyramids, truncated cones and aerial creetions, waving their enormous aries and whirling above the roofs like a cloud of monster birds be ting their wings over the city. It is computed that there are no fewer than 12,000 windraills in Holland, chiefly employed in pumping and draining. Many are of vast dimensions, each sail sometimes exceeding 60 feet in length.

HER HUSBAND GONE 22 YEARS. Mrs. Jacoby, of Port Jervis, Finds Mim Through the Pension Office.

Mrs. Ann Jacoby, of Port Jervis, whose husband disappeared twenty-two years ago from their home in Greene, Chenango county, N. Y., and from whom nothing had since been heard, has just received information from the Pension Department that berbusband is living in Buffalo. Since 1890 Mrs. Jacoby has been drawing the pension allowance due to a soldier's widow, it being presumed from the veteran's long absence and his failure to draw his monthly pension that he was dead. A short time ago he applied for a renewal of his pension at Buffalo, and this was the means of learning his whereabouts by his friends.

Samord Jacoby, of Port Jervis, a reputable mechanic, enlisted in the Seventieth Regiment, New York Volunteers, on April 20, 1861, and remained in the service until honorably discharged in July. 1864. Two years later a pension of $5 a month was granted him, dating from the day of his discharge, on account of disabilities incurred in the Getrysburg campaign. In September, 1875, the veteran and his wife were living at Greene, N. Y.

He was physically strong, but he was troubled by increasing deamess, and occasional spells of despondency. One day after dinner he left home, telling his wire that he was going to call on a triend who lived about a mile from the village. He was seen by neighbors going in the direction indicated, and alone. He never reached the friend's house, and from that day to this, so far as is known, he never was seen dead or alive. He disappeared from a well-traveled highway, within Jacoby was ordinarily secretive concerning his intentions, and it was sugrested that he was seized with a sudden impulse and had gone to visit some reatives. When this theory had been dispelied, relatives of Mrs. Jacoby induced her to apply for a widow's pension, previously, however, making a search and nquiry for the missing husband through the Grand Army and the police authorities of the neighboring towns. The Pension Department rejected the widow's claim. Toeu Representative Lewis B-ach of this district got a special bill passed by Congress granting her a pension. This was vetoed by President Cleveland, but another bill was gotten through by Representative M. D. Stivers.

Mrs. Jacoby has opened communication attributes to mental derangement, be with return to Port Jervis on Wednesday. There are two children—a son, who was six years of age when the father disappeared, and a daughter, who was born six months after, and who is married to Mott Perry, a prosperous young resident of Sullivan county.

J. Frank Tuthill was the butt of a joke, Monday morning. Frank had to leave his place for a few moments, and some of the practical jokers present discovered a team of goats outside. Several book beer signs were unearthed and placed outside of the door, and one of the goats was led in the rear door, taken behind the bar and tied to a beer frucet. "Tut" didn't look any too pleasant on returning and discovering the joke.

There is a great crop of nuts, this year and the city boys have already begun to make their annual raids on the farmers' trees. A good frost will open the shells on the bickory unrs and crack open the pricking chestnut burrs.

The squirrels are already storing their winter stock, worried by the por hunters who have no respect for the law forbidding their being taken until Oct. 15th. When the trees have been robbed of their verdure the honest hunter will go forth to find that the game has been picked up by these scavenger-gunners and the sport ruited.

"Jack" Claffy, a well known young man of this city, whose employment has been as varied as the weather and who never refused a job, took lessons in brick Laying of the Orr Brothers. Work was dult for "Jack" all season, but he did odd selves, and was not averse to being a policeman, soldier, cowboy or tough in plays at the Casino.

When the city began the paving, "Jack" secured a steady job at $1.50 a day. The job was finished and "Jack" was called to Paterson, where is employed by the Erie. He draws $3 per day and has a number of men under him. Ex-Senator and present Mayor John Hinchliffe has promised "Jack" steady work next spring when Paterson is to do considerable paving.

The High School building furnished employment to many mechanics, but the house building jobs were tew and far between. There are probably a dozen houses in course of erection now. Dr. Powelson made such a fine record in the hospital that he attracted the favorable notice of the visiting surgeons, who are at the head of their profession in the city, and their influence has just secured for him the appointment as Demonstrator of Diseases of Women at the Metropolitan Post-Graduate College and Hospital, in New York city, a most unusual honor for so young a man.

Dr. Powelson will be in New York, Mondays and Thursdays, and at other times at his office here.

George Herr, a glass blower in Brox & Ryall's factory at Port Jervis, who resides on Grand street, Germantown, met with a frightful accident, Monday morning, which resulted in the loss of his left arm at the elbow.

He attempted to cross over Conductor Owen McMahan's eastbound freight train near the glass factory. He placed his elbows on the bumpers of the cars and endeavored to raise himself to the platform. While in this position the cars crashed together and caught his left arm between the bumpers, crushing it so badly that it was necessary to amputate it at the Port Jervis hospital one

A TRIFLE CAUTIOUS.

No City Man Could Get Ahead of Him.

A typical farmer from the interior. who had evidently come to the city to spend some of the proceeds of one dollar wheat, walked cautiously into one of the better-class hotels, says the Detroit Free Press. One of the bell boys saw him weighted down with a satchel and coat and umbrella and, as was his custom, darted toward the door to take the visitor's burdens and pilot him to the clark's desk. He reached down to grasp the satchel Quick as a flash the old man's right arm shot out with his umbrella and just as Mr. Bell Boy took hold of the satchel the umbrella came down on his back with a whack. "Take that, young fellow!" remarked the visitor. "You can't grab things away from me. I've heerd uv how yew fellers work it. Grab a hand bag an skip afore a man has a chance tew wink But I fooled ye this time, gosh daru ye! Yew git out o' here right quick."

The old man raised his umbrella again threateningly and the bell boy, much discomfited, slid toward his seat, while the farmer once more cautiously adranced to the desk. The clerk reached out warmly to grasp his prospective guest's hand. But it didn't grasp.

"Young man," said the old fellow. yew're a trifle previous, ain't ye? When l git reddy tew shake. I'll let ye know. Yew don't know me, an' I don't know yew, yet. Jest keep that paw ter yerself. There, now, gimme a quill an' I'll show ye who I am."

He got the quill and registered, but bell boys and clerks gave their guest full right of way in either direction.

DISTANCE MERCURY REACHES. The Thermometer Bulb Contains

Enough to Stretch Miles. While almost anyone knows about the principles on which ordinary thermometers operate, there are a number of things about the little instrument says the Boston Transcript. One of the most peculiar of these is the question of the length of tube which the mercury in the bulb of an ordinary thermometer would fill if it were stretched out in a single column the size of that in the tube.

Most people, when asked how long this would be, would probably say from five to fifteen feet, while as a matter of fact this column of mercury would in an extremely delicate instrument be miles in length. The reason of this is that the column of mercury, while it appears quite larget is really of almost infinitesimal size. If the tube of a thermometer is broken, one is at first at a loss to see where the mercury goes in, The only permanent cure for itching | but a close examination will disclose a fine line, much thinner than a bair, running across the end-of the tube. and this is one end of a little slit in which the mercury rises. As it has its flat side toward the eye, it appears to be quite large, and the convexity of the outside of the tube, through which it is seen, magnifies it, and gives it that rounded appearance which is so deceptive. The reason why the slit is made so small is to give the greatest ratio of result for the expansion of the mercury in the Gulb.

The greatest and strongest chain ever made has but recently left the Tipton Green iron works, England. It is intended for crane work at Chathain wharf, and consists of oval links forged severally of 31/2-inch rods, each link being 20 inches long and 13 wide. Since there was no machinery available for testing a chain of such dimensions, the test was made by actual suspension of a weight of 896,000 pounds from each

TRIBULATIONS OF REPORTERS.

Experiences of Two Newspaper Men in Quest of News of the Murder at the Aullivan County Club.

When news of the murder of H. F. Pritchard and of the shooting of Thomas Manny at the Sollivan County. Club, near Wurtsboro, reached this city, last evening. W. F. Bailey, the hustling reporter of the Daily Argus, and a representative of one of the other city papers made up their minds that in order to get all the facts concerning the affair it was necessary for them to visit the scene of the

They accordingly telegraphed to Wurtsboro to have the telegraph office kept open, expecting to send a long "story" to the New York papers which they represented, and hiring a rig, started on their cold ride over the mountain.

It was 10 o'clock when they reached Wurtsboro, but not content with the details they could gather there at second Barrens," five long, uphill unles die avenue.

They were not sure of their way, and on arriving at the top of the mountain took the wrong road. They haven't the least idea where the road bads to, but they followed it over humps and stones for nearly an hour when it dawned on them that they were lost, and they turned around and drove back over the road fary had come.

It was midnight when at last they reached the club house grounds, and from the sleepy cottagers, whom they awakened, they elicated all the information that was obtainable, and then started to return to Wurtsboro. Before they got out of the Club grounds, however, an fied. accident happe en sur, danes sav-their "horse broke down." What really happened was that the Lack strap of the harness gave way, but it was along time before, in the darkness, they could locate the trouble. When they did discover it they hadn't craff enough to repair damages. and so pushed on to Wartsboro with things us they were. It is down hill all the way and the broken back strap made the breeching of no use and in order to keep the wagon from running on the horse's heels they had to hold it back themselves. This they did, one walking on each side of the horse and pushing back on the shafts. It was dead easy for the horse, but the newspaper men found that holding back even an empty wagon for over four miles.

It was after 2 o'clock when they reached Wurtsboro. It was too late to send anything to New York and besides the tired and disgusted operator had closed up his office and gone home to bed long before the tourists reached the village. In spite of it all, Mr. Bailey was at the telephone early this morning and his night's experiences made possible the full. complete and interesting account of the tragedy which was published in the Menccur, this morning, and which with additional facts is laid before the readers of of the Augus, to-night.

Masso is one of three brothers who learned from their own father undying hatred to Spain, and who got their first lesson in warfare in their father's company during the ten years' war that ended in 1874. The father was a half Spaniard and the mother a Congonegress. Despite the partial Spanish descent there is not a drop of blood in Masso's veins that flows in sympathy with the Spanish cause. So bitterly did he fight during the former war, when the chances for Cuban success were not я thousandth part as good as they are now, that he rose to the rank of major general.

After the restoration of peace the Massos reconciled themselves, as far as the name of the thing went, with Spain and took the oath of allegiance, thus escaping punishment. They soon, however, joined Garcia, the bandit, in his 'road" movements and were somewhere in hiding in the Santiago de Cuba mountains when the present revolution broke out. Gen. Masso is a naturalized American citizen. He secured his papers while working for Col. Figuerado at Tampa some years ago.

Although possessed of little education, and unable to read English, Masso is a man of considerable intellect, and he has picked up a vast amount of information on all subjects through conversation. While able to talk well on nuny topics he is deficient in arithmetic, and is said to be compelled to use his fingers in counting.

Masso is a cosmopolitan, physically as well as other ways. He has kinky hair, teeth like an Irish bulldog, and n white wife whom he found at Key West. Undying hatred of everything Spanish is the food and drink of his everyday life.

A woman's noblest work is helping a baby into life and health. She is committing a crime when she helps a sickly baby into the world. It is a crime because it is wholly within her power to make the baby strong and healthy. She can do it by the proper preparation—by taking proper care of her-self during the period of gestation. Many babies die early, or at birth, or are sickly all their lives because of their mothers' ignor-ance or neglect. Neither is excusable. Every woman may be strong and well, and so insure the health of her baby. If she will take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescrip-tion during the period of gestation, she will find that she will have none of the discom-forts incident to this condition, and that parturition will be free from danger, and comparatively free from suffering. MASCAGNI ALL RIGHT.

Report That He Attempted Suicide Officially Denied.

The rumor of the reported attempted suicide of Mascagni, the popular composer of "Cavalleria Rusticana," "L'Amico Fritz," etc., which the Gazetta Dell Emilia of Bologne published under the fullest reserve, is officially denied at the offices of the ministry of fine arts at Rome, which department of the government made an inquiry into the re-

Pietro Mascagni was born in 1863. He is the son of a baker, but his father intended him to adopt a learned profession. As a child, however, he showed such exceptional taste for music that

PIETRO MASCAGNI.

(Composer of "Cavalleria Rusticana.") his father was at length induced to send him to the Conservatoire of Milan. There he failed to agree with his teachers and joined a traveling opera company. In 1886 he married and settled in Cerignola, where he was bandmaster and organist at a salary of four pounds a month.

His first important opera and his masterpiece, "Cavalleria Rusticana," was written and soon made him famous the world over, although the score had previously been in the hands of all the leading theatrical managers in Italy

In many European cities he has personally conducted the opera, which has been performed in the principal European languages, including Russian.

His late operas have been "L'Amico Fritz," "I Rantzau" and "Ratcliffe." "I Rantzau" was performed for the first time at Florence in November, 1892, and in June, 1893, it was put on the stage in London, when Mascagni himself conducted. In the following mouth he conducted selections from his compositions before the queen at Windsor.

PRINCESS KAIULANI,

Ex-Queen Lilinokalani's Nicce Now in This Country.

Princess Kaiulani of Hawaii, who visited this country in 1893, and whose pleasing personality made a favorable impression on all who met her at that time, has been in Europe since then, and has now returned to this country. In view of the fact that affairs in Hawaii are attracting much attention, and that the ex-queen of that country keeps herself before the public, the movements of the young princess will be watched with close attention.

Kaiulani is the niece of ex-Queen Liliuokalani who became queen when her brother, Kalakaua, died in 1891. Prior to her elevation to the throne she was known in Honolulu as Mrs. Dominis. On attaining the new honors she named Kaiulani, the daughter of her sister, who had married a Mr. Cleghern, as her heir to the royal title, since which time Kaiulani has been known as a princess, and has been looked upon by many as the future queen of the Hawaiian islands.

She is several shades lighter than her royal aunt, her features are more regular, and in her looks and bearing the Caucasian strain has left a refining trace. The young woman has traveled much since she left this country for England, and reports received from the various places where she has been stopping show that she was as popular with Europeans as with the few Americans who made her acquaintance.

Uncle Sam's Reindeer Farm. The government reindeer farm near Fort Clarence, Alaska, in the vicinity of the lower Yukon, now has more than 1,000 animals, and they are multiplying rapidly. The herd was started five years ago. None of the animals have been utilized as yet for any purpose, although it is said that some of them may be put in service in transporting the mails. It is now suggested that a certain number of the deer be sold to the seekers after wealth in the Klondike. The revenue derived from their sale, it is argued, would reduce the heavy expenses attending the maintenance of the rest of the herd, and they would be the greatest possible aid to the miners.

Train for German Emperor. The German emperor's imperial train cost $830,000 and took three years to construct. There are altogether 12 cars, including two nursery carriages. The reception saloon contains several pieces of statuary, and each of the sleeping cars is fitted with a bath.

Two Men Shot at the Sullivan County Club.

ONE DEAD, OTHER DYING.

H. F. Pritchard, of New York, and Thomas Manny, of Wurtsboro, the Victims.

SHOOTING WAS WITHOUT PROVOCATION!

The Details of the Tragedy-Pritchard and Manny Had Served a Subprena on Christien, Who Flew Into an Ungovernable Rage-Ins Wife Tried to Stay His Murderous Hand-Fled After the shooting and Has Not Been Seen or Heard of-Manny's Ante-Bortem Statement.

Wallace J. Christien, in a fit of murderous rage, yesterday, shot and instantly killed Horace F. Prichard, of New York city, on the grounds of the Sullivan County Club, four miles beyond Wurtsboro. Then Christien turned his pistol on Thomas J. Mauny, a constable of Wurtsboro, and shot him, inflicting a wound that is inevitably fatal.

Wallace J. Christien is a contractor. He formerly lived at Yonkers where he had extensive business interests. After the Sullivan County Club had cleared its land, Christich got the contracts to build the cottages in which the club members live during the summer. Each year Christien obtained new contracts for buildings on the club's grounds. Two years ago he built a cottage for himself there and permanently removed from

A BUSINESS DIFFERENCE.

He bought supplies from E. M. Pritelard & Son, manufactures of such and blinds at 402 Mott avenue, and as a result of their business transactions a dispute arose concerning material furnished for two houses and suits were begun against their owners. The testimony of Christien was of importance to the Pritchards and, yesterday, Horace F. Pritchard, the junior member of the firm, went to Wartsboro to serve a subpara on Chris-

He reached Wurtsboro on the O. and W.'s day express shortly before noon. He hired a rig at McCune's hotel and securing the services of Thomas Manny, a constable of the town of Mamakating, who lives at Wurtsboro, they drove to the Sullivan County Club's ground and to the cottage where Christien hved

CHRISTIEN'S UNCONTROLLABLE RAGE.

Christien was ontside the house when Pritchard and Manny drove up. Pritchard shoved the papers under Christien's arm, soying "that is all I want of you." Christien looked at the papers, and giving evidence of uncontrollable rage, rushed into his cottage.

Pritchard and Manny had plenty of time in which to have left the club grounds, but suspecting no harm they remained looking about, Manny pointing out the many improvements that had been made since the clab undertook. a few years ago, to redeem the waste mountain land and make of it a pleasant and habitable spot.

"I'LL KILL YOU BAPH."

They heard Christien runninging about in his house and in a minute or two he came running out with a revolver in his hand exclaiming, "You dscoundrels, I'll kill you both," and as he spoke he rushed toward. Pritchard, and when so close to him that the muzzle or his weapon almost touched has body he pulled the trigger and fired. As Christian approached the augon, pistol in hand, Pritchard had risen to his feet. The bullet struck ben in the grom and passed auto the abdomen. A second shot quickty tollowed the first, the bullet passing

TWO BULLIATS FOR MANNA.

Manny plucked the whip from its so bet. Before he could lash the horse and try to escape, before the horse, rearug, frightened by the shot, could jump away, Christien turned his revolver on the constable and fired twice, the bullet. striking him in the lower part of the back and passing through into the abdomen. Mrs Christien stood near her husband when the fatal shots were fired and tried a vain to check his murderous frenzy. When the occupants of the other cortages, alarmed at the shooting, hurried toward the scene they heard her say:

"Oh Wallace, what have you done! How could you! Run for your life,"

THE MERDINGR'S FLIGHT.

Christien seemed to realize the nature of his deed. Without even entering his Geo. H. Harding, Chest. A. Stanton, C. house, without a word to his weeping B. Newkirk, M. C. Stanton, Fred Weller, and horrified wife, the marderer sprang from the piazza, ran to the edge of the Cune, John Moley, Sanford Brown. club grounds and disappeared in the woods that surround them.

carried into what is called the lake house. The doctors found that the bullet had penetrated his abdomen and that his wound is mortal. They did not expect him to live until morning, but at 8 o'clock this morning he was: till alive.

MANNY'S ANTE-MORTEM STATEMENT. His aute-mortem statement was taken, last night, and is as follows:

On the 27th day of September, 1897, in the town of Mamakating, New York, was at the residence of Wallace J. Christien and while there was shot and mortally wounded by a pistol shot at the hands of the said Wallace J. Christien. and was also near said Christien when he shot and killed H. J. Pritchard with the same weapon.

Geo. S. Helm, Coroner.

HOW CHRISTIEN GOT AWAY.

As soon as the people at the Club re covered from the shock of the tragedy a messenger was sent to Wurtsboro to notify the authorities and have them arrest Christien if he came to the village. Nothing was seen of him there, however, and since the shooting took place between 2 and 3 o'clock it is possible and probable that he reached the O. and W, in time to take an afternoon train at some of the stations north of Wurtsboro, in which event he stands a good chance of making his escape.

It was reported in Wurtsboro, last night, that Christien said to his wife that he was going to Monticello to give himself up, but Sheriff Watson, who came from Monticello to the scene of the tragedy, reaching thereabout 10 o'clock, last night, had seen and heard nothing of the fugitive. Those in Wartsboro, who know Christien, ridicule the idea of his surrendering himself and regard the story as an invention of his wife to delay pursuit and facility to his escape,

E. M. Pritchard, the father of the murdered man, accompanied by the superintendent of their factory, W. F. Esterbrook, came to this city on Eric (train 3) at 11:15, last night, and procuring a rig at Wilkison's livery stable drove to Wartsboro, reaching there about 4 o'clock, this morning. He had made arrangements to take the body back to New York on this afternoon's train.

Pritchard, the murdered man, was thirty years old, and leaves a widow but no children.

Descriptions of Christian were sent out last night, along the line of the O. and W., but they resulted in nothing, for if he sought to escape by taking a train, he had pleaty of time before the authorities

ON THE DEAD MAN'S BODY.

The coroner found $150 in money and a gold watch on Pritchard's body. Both he and Manny had revolvers but they had not been used and Pritchard's was found in his hip pocket thus completely disproving a story told, last night, by Mrs. Christien that they had menaced her husband's life and that he fired in

THE FATHER'S GREEF.

The elder Pritchard saw the body of is murdered son at Bullard's undertal ing shop at Wurtsboro. He was literally overcome by grief. He threw himself atfull length on the body, kissed the cold still lips and patted the cheeks from which the bues of life had fled forever. The scene was so affecting that all who were present were deeply moved by the aged father's poignant grief.

Grace Christien, the sixteen-year-old sister of the murderer, was driven to the Wurtshoro station, this morning, and took the train ostensibly for Yonkers. There are some who think that she has gons there expecting to meet her brother and assist him in his flight, but a more plausible theory is that since she was merely visiting at the Club she is harrying home to get a way from the horror of it all

CHRISTIEN A BAD MAN.

Unristien is what is known as a "bad man." He has a hot and ungovernable temper and has frequently been involved in broils or various kinds. Lastfall, in New York, he had a quarrel with the elder Pritchard and knocked him down with a club. He was arrested for this and released on bail which was jurnished by his wife. This charge of assault is still pending against him.

Christien had wonderful skill with a revolver. Residents at the Sullivan County Club have often seen him hit a half-dollar at a distance of several hundred feet. He often wore a belt which contained four five-shot 32-calibre revolvers and two tive-shot 48-calibre. A heavy dirk knife completed his murderous;

It was reported in Wurtsboro, this morning that Mrs. Christien said to some of the collagers at the club, yesterday, that her husband in his violent moods sometimes struck her.

There are some in Wurtsboro who thick they have reasons for believing that Christien is hiding in the woods in the vicinity of the club grounds and that he communicated with his family, last on conjecture, for no watch was kept on affair. THE CORONER'S INQUEST.

The inquest was held at Olcott's hotel. E. M. Pritchard was the first witness He explained that his son, the murdered man, was simply serving a subpassa on Christien in an action to foreclose a lien brought by E. M. Pritchard & Son against Christien and the owner of the two buildings mentioned in the suit, whose names the witness either could not or would not divulge. His son had known Christien about fifteen months. He thought Christien had no grievance against his son but that resulting from the filing of a lien against him and bis son's activity in securing Christien's conviction for an assault upon the witness. The conviction was secured in the Court of Special Sessions in New York city. about a year ago. The witness was reading the report of the proceedings of the Chicago convention when the assault was committed. When arrested Christien admitted the assault and was fined $250. The case was reopened and while Christien was found guilty the judge suspeuded sentence in asmuch as he had been locked up about two weeks, and it was not unlikely therefore that there was some ugly feeling on Christien's part. He had not seen Christian since. The assault on him was the direct outcome of the filing of the lieb. Christien struck him when he was not looking, and his eyes were blackened, his glasses broken and two ribs were cracked. FINDING THE BODY.

Coroner Helm was the next witness. He testibed to finding the body of Pritchard about 200 yards from Christien's home on the road leading to the club house. He was accomparied at the time by Charles Newkirk and Francis E. Craus, the superintendent of the club. The body was lying on the back in a pool of blood. Life was extinct and to all appearances he had not moved since he fell from the wagon. The body was removed to Wurtsboro after Dr. Piper had pronounced life extinct. The coroner also testified to finding Constable Manny lying mortally wounded on a cot in the boat house at the lake. He was unconscious but recovered consciousness about miduight, when his aute-mortem statement was taken. On examining Pritchard's body he found a revolver, all the chambers loaded, in his hip pocket. The appearance of the pistol showed that it had not been fired in some time. He also took a revolver from Manny which had not been fired in a long time.

MANNY'S STORY OF THE SHOOTING. Dr. C. W. Piper testified that Pritchard died from hemorrhage as a result of the buller severing the artery of the right leg. He could not have lived over fifteen minutes after being shot. He also found a builet hole through the left hand of the dead man. He did not believe that Manmy could survive the day, one ball having taken effect in the lower part of the body and passed through the bladder. Another bullet entered the left side and is still in the body. Manny told witness that they had driven up to the Christien cottage and Pritchard had gone to Christien, who stood in the yard, and serid, "Is this Wally Christien?" Christien answered in the affirmative and Pritchard shoved the papers under his arm, saying "here are some papers for you." Christien raised his arm, letting the papers fall to the ground. Pritchard said, "That's all I have to do. I have made personal service." Pritchard then got into the wagon and Christien rushed; into the house and reappeared with the pistol and emptied its contents into the two men. Both fell to the ground and the horse run away. These statements were made to the doctor after Manny Middletows, N. Y. P. O. Box 452. dioNovi4 had been told that he could not live.

At this point an adjournment was taken uatil aiteruoon.

MRS CHRISTIEN'S EVIDENCE. Mrs. Christien was the first witness called this afternoon. She was very pale when being aworn. She said she had night. There is, however, no means of never seen Pritchard or Manny before verfying this report, which is only based | yesterday. About 1 o'clock while out driving with her children she was nearly run down by two drunken men. Did not see either of the men with her husband, nor did she hear the pistol shots. Manny was carried by her when he was taken to the boat house after being shot and she was told be was drunk. When she reached home she found Miss Christien in the house. Her husband was also in the house. The remainder of the afternoon jury, which at 9 o'clock viewed the re- was a blank. She said she was faint mains: Jeseph Rosch, Chas. D. She did did not know whether she had ever said that her husband shot the men in self defence. She saw her husband in the yard when she was returning from the was calle I with all speed. Could not give the street address of her husband's parents in Yonkers, having always gone there with her husband in a carriage. Does not correspond with her husband's people and has nothing in her home to show where they live. She does not know whether her husband took any money with him, but is quite positive that he did not. She did not know the address at which her husband's sister, who left Wortsboro, this morning, could be reached.

AN IMPORTANT WITNESS MISSING. It will be noticed that Mrs. Christien's testimony is directly at viarance with the stories of the shooting told by others which are to the effect that she was near Christien when the shooting occurred. It is possible that the woman who was at the Christien house at the time may have been Mrs. Christien and that in the excitement of the moment she was taken for the murderer's wife. Many at Wurtsboro blame the Coronerfor allowing Mrs. Christien, who is undoubtedly an important witness, to get away.

REWARD FOR CHRISTIEN'S ARREST.

Sheriff Watson, of Sullivan county, has offered of $500 for Christien's arrest. Christien is five feet, ten inches tall, weighs about 160 pounds, swarthy complexion, small black moustache, wore when last seen a dark suit, dark Fedora
